

Minutes from Class February 18, 2004

- Professor Gum informed us about how to go about getting a website
 - Jeff stated that he will take control of this and get the application in
- Professor Gum handed back the review of the full architectural document that he reviewed
 - Manon took it and is going to review it and she will report to the class on what things need to be changed or updated
- Professor Gum has been compiling part orders so please get them into him if you need things ordered – he is planning on ordering parts at the end of the week
- Tested Robot
 - The robot was veering right because the bracket was vibrating back and forth
- Broke up into groups and discussed design
